PERSONAL PROFILE

Christian Thüringer is an independent photographer, filmmaker and garage rocker living in Vienna. Thüringer learned to master video editing with S-VHS VCR in the 90ies, before leaving his home town to buy himself a Radiohead T-shirt and start some serious diving into the world of 3D animation, compositing and post-Nirvana music. He now lives in a historian apartment building in the north of the city together with his render farm and espresso machine, lectures on image processing, loves fast food, tracking marker, shaggy dogs and foreign rock music.

EXPERTISE Over the last 17 years did more than 3000 clips and movies from advertising to documentary editing, filming, photography, as well as produced my own short film "monolog" - I wrote, directed and co-produced the vfx heavy 13-minute film, for which worldwide festival screenings start in 2014.
